BREEDER...

There is always a dependable demand for SHORTHORN and POLLED SHORTHORN seed stock. Repeat orders provide a continued satisfactory outlet for surplus, as exemplified in the year after year success of long-established herds. With SHORTHORNS and POLLED SHORTHORNS, profit to the buyer becomes profit to the breeder—a solid foundation for an enduring livestock operation. Registrations increased 30% last year. Growing demand in commercial and farm herds and in crossbreeding programs for choice registered foundation stock means an ever-widening market for the breeder.

RANCHER...

Natural grazers, SHORTHORNS and POLLED SHORTHORNS do well on the range; withstand all climatic conditions; reproduce and make profitable gains. Demand for SHORTHORN and POLLED SHORTHORN replacement calves and yearlings is unsurpassed. Feeders complain there are not enough to go around. In the recent marketing season, two world's record prices and a world's record average were established by the breed in auction and on the market. This demand for SHORTHORN feeders is based on experience. They make fastest and most economical gains, which means extra profit.

CROSSBREEDING...

Bar B Ranch, Ogden, Utah, found that cross-bred calves sired by a SHORTHORN bull weighed 50 pounds more at ten months of age. The Department of Agriculture experiment station at Miles City, Mont., not only proved that such crosses resulted in much greater weight for calves at any age, but that cross-bred cows sired by SHORTHORNS will produce ten per cent greater calf crops. They have also determined that the most transmissible characteristics of bulls are weight-for-age and rate of gain—traits in which SHORTHORNS and POLLED SHORTHORNS are unsurpassed!

FEEDER...

Because of their easy fleshing qualities, SHORTHORNS and POLLED SHORTHORNS are in strong demand to go on grass and into the feedlot. Their superior ability to efficiently convert grass, roughage and grain into profit-making beef is characteristic of the breed. Feeders report gains of 2½, 3 and even more pounds per day. In the first of three Purina Research Farm tests, SHORTHORNS gained an average of one-fourth pound more per day. In a year of feeding, this means nearly 100 pounds additional weight. SHORTHORNS and POLLED SHORTHORNS mean more dollars at the market for the feeder.

SHOWRING...

SHORTHORNS and POLLED SHORTHORNS do well in any interbreed competition. SHORTHORNS were 3 times grand champions at Chicago International in past seven shows, and had reserve grand champion in 1951—top performers on basis of weight-for-age... almost swept the boards at 1951 Denver National Western, taking grand champion steer, grand champion load of feeders and reserve champion, fat carlot, the latter outdressing grand champion load... took the purple at last two Denver Feeder Shows. Champion yearling steers over all breeds at 6 out of 7 Chicago Feeder Shows were Colorado range-bred SHORTHORNS.

STEERS

Three Years In A Row

On Range or in the feedlot, SHORTHORNS and POLLED SHORTHORNS are practical, built-for-profit cattle. Their outstanding attributes of scale, weight for age and wide adaptability, combined with economical first cost, make them the logical choice for safe and profitable livestock investment. They thrive under the feed, forage and climatic conditions of every livestock section of the country. For purebred breeding, for feeding, for sires in range and farm herd improvement and for crossbreeding, they fill the most exacting needs.

More Profit from SHORTHORN Vigor

They produce calf crops that grow faster to weaning age, and, through the vigor of SHORTHORN blood, quickly convert grass, roughage and grain into high dressing carcasses of quality beef that meets with ready packer acceptance.

Rugged, quiet and easy-handling, SHORTHORNS and POLLED SHORTHORNS delight the eye. Pride of ownership is just one of the many fine satisfactions that go along with SHORTHORNS.

Aggressive promotion by the national association, its field representatives, the district and local associations and breeder members from coast to coast, assure continued growth and popularity for America's oldest breed of cattle.

Select SHORTHORNS and POLLED SHORTHORNS for Solid Success—THE BREED THAT'S BEST IN EVERY "WEIGH."

American Shorthorn Breeders' Association
Union Stock Yards Chicago 9, Illinois

PACKER...

Because SHORTHORNS and POLLED SHORTHORNS dress well, they meet with ready packer acceptance. In the International Carlot shows for the past five years, SHORTHORNS dressed an average of 64.61 per cent, ranking second among the popular beef breeds. Modern beef-type SHORTHORNS and POLLED SHORTHORNS are finishers as well as improvers, putting on flesh evenly to grade choice to prime, with profit to the feeder and packer.
